

Atlasprofilax – Straightening the Wheel

Atlasprofilax is a vibrating massage to the upper neck and base of the skull; a technique channeled 25 years ago by a Swiss man named Rene Claudius Schumperli. In the faint dawn of Dwapara Yuga, it was allowed to enter into physicality, having slept through the previous age.

It focuses on releasing the musculature where the head meets the rest of the body, thereby relaxing the entire system. Most human beings are born with substantial spinal tension (due to the improperly fitted “wheel”) which creates a wringing effect in regards to the spinal cord. Using deeply penetrating vibration, Atlasprofilax allows the unwinding of this inherent torque. The process is safe, gentle, and non-invasive, without any manipulation. It is even appropriate for young children, and can produce greater symmetry than what was formed in the womb. After a woman experiences this liberation, all children born to her no longer need this treatment since they emerge with the new symmetry already completed. This makes for precocious movement such as an infant who can easily lift her head moments after birth.

The spinal configuration affects everything within the human body beginning with the foramen magnum, the hole in the back of the skull which allows passage of the spinal cord. This profound suboccipital release allows for obvious postural improvements, lengthening of the neck, greater symmetry in the pelvis, and increased blood flow to the brain. The human body is then more able to heal itself, after a brief period of detoxification. After the application of Atlasprofilax, the cleansing of various organ systems proceeds spontaneously, due to the increased flow of prana in the spinal column.

The atlanto-occipital joint, where the head connects with the neck, is an important junction for cerebral nerves, descending nerves, movement of spinal fluid, and ascending flow of blood. Any spinal tension which begins here creates restriction, reducing circulation to the brain, and may result in faulty transmission of information between the brain and the body. This creates disorder in the natural balance of the various systems. Since sensory organs, organs of equilibrium, and all interior organs must interface with the brain, the lessening of pressure in this area can have a positive impact on a host of diseases, such as Parkinson’s Disease, Multiple Sclerosis, Tourette Syndrome, Meniere’s Disease, and Disembarkment Syndrome.

The following diagram shows the results of a study by a group of Brazilian physicians. The statistics are based on the effects of Atlasprofilax application conducted on 900 patients with nine pathological conditions.

Effectiveness of Atlasprofilax Massage	Great	Total Improvement	No Improvement	Physician Noted Improvement	Number of Patients
Neck Pain	86%	5%	9%	6	235
Lower Back Pain	78%	11%	11%	10	538
Tonic-Clonic Epilepsy	79%	13%	8%	7	163
Idiopathic Scoliosis (<45°)	62%	16%	22%	16	620
Fybronyalgia	88%	8%	4%	12	50
Cervical Herniated Disc	39%	38%	23%	9	159
Lumbar Herniated Disc	38%	52%	10%	14	584
Migrane Headaches	90%	4%	6%	4	180
Carpal Tunnel Syndrome	83%	4%	13%	3	147

Not only is the physical system affected, but emotional patterns and overall mental state are also improved. By releasing the upper cervical musculature, Atlasprofilax literally creates better head-to-body connection. Increased self-awareness, relaxation, and overall well-being are achieved. This allows for more profound meditations, and for inner silence to penetrate the body. Mentally and emotionally, it allows for greater sense of freedom, centeredness, and grounding. Based in this new experience of reality, decision making has much more clarity, and the spirit, qi, or vital force, becomes more tangeable.

Part of one's journey towards enlightenment is to bring the fine heavenly energy down through the body to the earth and the nurturing earthly energy up through the crown. Anything that we can do to open our central core to this connection is helpful to our purpose. We are more able to download our intention for incarnation and manifest our desires.

The Atlasprofilax fee is $300 for an adult, with a free-re-check.

The fee for children is $200.
