

Balancing with Universal Frequency Codes

Further Evolution after Atlasprofilax

Atlasprofilax was a wonderful gift and contribution towards your road to health for its unwinding of an inherent twist in the spinal column.

The evolution of each person it touched need not stop there.

Enter the universal frequency codes...

Physics has proven that everything is a vibration of energy. Balancing with universal frequency codes is based on Hebrew vowels and tones that carry specific frequencies in a familiar, recognizable language into the body. These messages create an opening for the innate wisdom to bring the body system back into harmony and balance.

So it makes sense that specific sound waves would be able to work on the body more directly than even chemicals or other substances. Sound can and will have a direct influence on every cell, every organ and especially on muscles, nerves and bones.

Therefore, it's not astonishing that sounds, uttered by a human voice, have a very deep impact on all levels of our being.

The organs, the tissues, even metabolism and thought-structures, all of them have their specific light and quantum frequencies as well as informational structures. Once the universal frequency codes are installed, it enables maximum performance of the other energy medicine modalities.

The physical system is more malleable in children; they will need only one session of Level 1 at $125.

A standard adult package of 2 sessions is $250.

If 1 session is preferred, the fee is $150.
